A RECOMMENDATION OF MR. FRANK KING

It is a pleasure to write a letter of recommendation on behalf of Frank King.

Frank was employed by the Sara Hightower Regional Library for six months. During that time he worked part time in Technical Services Department, of which I am supervisor. His duties in this department included cataloguing recordings, cassettes and musical scores for the library's audio visual collections.

He was a fast learner, accurate, dependable and has a creative mind. I found him to be of high integrity and a likable person. His working relationship with other employees in this department was excellent.

I believe Frank will be an asset to any organization with which he is connected.

Sincerely,

Shirley T. Keith

Recommendation for Franklin J. King

From October 1991 to March 2 of 1992 Frank King worked as a Producer Director in the video department of the Rome Floyd County Library.

During that time Frank was a conscientious worker. His work habits were excellent and he was most creative and quite knowledgeable about video production. His skills enhanced the overall production of the video dept. He is an extremely intelligent young man. His immediate supervisor during the time fore stated it was a pleasure to work with him.

I highly recommend Franklin J. King for employment in his field of work.

To Walter White:

Frank King has worked as my Newsroom assistant since June of last year.

Since that time, my interactions with Frank have found him to be eager to meet, and overcome the challenges of a fast-paced and demanding environment.

He is faithful in his attendance to what is a very early shift, and has been diligent in completing all tasks assigned to him. He maintains high standards for himself and his craft, and addresses myself and other team members with courtesy and respect. His outgoing personality is an additional benefit, as it allows those who interact with Frank to feel at ease.

I can recommend Frank King as a valuable asset to any team where key people are needed, who are driven to strive, stretch, reach, and maintain high goals.

Sincerely,

Dave Mitchell
